The end of this week should see the completion of the "gift" home for the Reichert sisters, who were victims of a fire which destroyed their home on North State street this spring. Sheathing for the roof went on today, Chief Sifritt said.

The two-room frame home on a concrete and block foundation on the Reichert lot on North State street is a tribute to the good neighborliness which dwells in the hearts of two busy Marion public officials. Fire Chief Owen A. Sifritt and Police Chief William E. Marks.

Gun Burned in Fire

Soon after the Reichert sisters were made homeless by the fire which hospitalized one of them with first and second degree burns, Chief Marks and Chief Sifritt issued a joint appeal in The Star for funds, and donations of material and furniture for the building and furnishing of a home for the sisters.

Little by little donations of funds, furniture and materials trickled in from all over the Marion district and nearby counties with offers of donations of labor and services from craftsmen and haulers of the district. Two weeks ago building of the home began with a three man crew composed of Chief Marks and Sifritt and Francis M. Mullins of the Ohio theater, with the two chiefs doing the heavy end of the spadework.

Mr. Mullins came into his own when pouring and laying of the foundation began.

Many Volunteers

As construction progressed more and more members of the city fire department staff began to take part in the work. First to take part were Firemen John Ganoe and I. M. "Bob" Alexander, but soon they were joined by Capt. James Rynn, and Firemen R. G. Romoser, John T. Ludwig, Gerald R. Jennings, Paul E. Sifritt, Bernard E. Sullivan, Carl C. Cowell, Merle Zieg, Bob McCombs, R. H. Cass, L. W. Lowry, Otis L. Hoover, and Charles Stafford.

The 12 by 16 foot two room home is soundly built of fabricated wood sides with a concrete and block floor foundation. The exterior will be roofed and sided over the wood with an asphalt roof and asphalt siding.

Chief Marks and Chief Sifritt were both greatly pleased by the mass of materials and the amount of funds which arrived in answer to their final appeal for funds for the gift house.

The Reichert sisters, both spinsters and graduates of Columbia University, New York, are members of an old and well-known Bucyrus family. Miss Dorothy Reichert, elder of the two, was a teacher of religious education in Bucyrus schools for ten years, while her sister, Christine, is also a qualified teacher.

DISHES BROKEN AS BOLT HITS HOUSE

Lightning Jumps to Cupboard and Table.

City firemen responded to four calls over the weekend, one of which resulted in a near tragedy, Fire Chief Owen Sifritt reported today.

Residents of the Donald Shroud home at 211 East Fairground street escaped possible injury Saturday at about 4:47 p. m. when lightning struck the chimney of the house and ran down the metal roof into the kitchen. The charge broke dishes in a cupboard on the west side of the room and then jumped to the east side of the kitchen and broke dishes on the table which had been set for the evening meal. The family was on the front porch at the time. Damage to the tableware was estimated at $5.

A fire in a bedroom at the home of Mrs. Pearl Gatchall at 272 Cass street at 3:16 a. m. today resulted in damage estimated at $100 to bed clothing. Origin of the blaze as not known. Firemen from West Center street station responded.

Firemen were called to the Jack Johnson garage at 126 North Prospect street at 4:40 p. m. Saturday when a neon sign there shorted and began shooting sparks. No damage was reported. Central station firemen answered the call.

Sunday at 9:26 a. m. firemen responded to a call to 271 Nye street when a child there set off the alarm box.

SEE TAFT LEAD ON 2ND BALLOT

Survey Indicates He'll Forge Ahead of Dewey; Question Mark After That.

By WILLIAM H. HUTCHINSON
International News Writer

WASHINGTON, June 14—Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, and Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, are neck and neck today in first ballot strength for the Republican presidential nomination.

Taft, however, will draw ahead of Dewey on the second ballot.

The balance of power, on the third ballot, will rest with (1) the followers of Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota, (2) The badly split Pennsylvania delegation, (3) Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan, (4) Speaker Joseph W. Martin of Massachusetts, and (5) Gov. Earl Warren of California.

These are the conclusions drawn from the continuing International News Service poll of Republican delegations to the convention meeting in Philadelphia a week from today.

Early Choice Indicated

There are many signs of an early convention choice without a prolonged deadlock.

The Stassen organization, if it would vote as a unit, could give either Taft or Dewey so great a boost as to make his nomination practically certain.

A solid Pennsylvania delegation, joining with Martin and Warren, could determine a winner between the Ohioan and New Yorker. In fact, the three "dark horses," Vandenberg, Martin and Warren, by throwing their followers to one or the other, could nominate either Taft or Dewey.

This makes observers believe there will be an early decision in the convention.

Probable First Ballot

The International News Service poll shows this first ballot strength: Taft, 288 delegates, Dewey, 273 delegates, Stassen, 146 delegates.

The second ballot poll shows: Taft, 380 delegates, Dewey, 304 delegates, Stassen, 149 delegates.

The rest of the first ballot should be: Sen. Edward Martin, Pennsylvania, 73; Gov. Dwight H. Green, Illinois, 56; Vandenberg, 45; Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll, New Jersey, 35; Sen. Deverett Stallonstall, Massachusetts, 34; Rep. Charles Halleck, Indiana, 29; Carroll Reece, Tennessee, 22; Sen. Raymond Baldwin, Connecticut, 19; John Townsend, Delaware 9; Gen. Douglas MacArthur, 9, and Speaker Martin, 3.

The rest of the second ballot should show:

Sen. Vandenberg, 62; Speaker Martin, 56; Gov. Warren, 53, and Gen. MacArthur, 9.

The Pennsylvania delegation is listed as "undecided" on the second ballot because of the intra-party warfare in that state. Gov. James H. Duff is warring with Mason Owlett, the Republican national committeeman. Duff is willing to support Vandenberg, Martin or Taft, in that order, while Owlett is battling for a Dewey delegation. Observers are unwilling now to predict the outcome.

SENATE GOES ON OVERTIME TO END SESSION

Both Houses Speed Up To Meet Saturday Adjournment Date.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 14 Republican leaders put the senate on an overtime schedule today as congress drove to wind up its business and adjourn next Saturday.

Senator Wherry (Neb.), acting Republican leader, told reporters there will be a night session of the senate tonight.

The chamber is scheduled to vote at 4 p. m. (EST) on legislation to extend the reciprocal trade agreements act.

Wherry said he hopes the senate can pass tonight bills to provide funds for the interior department, the Navy and a number of government corporations.

He said debate on the long-range farm bill is scheduled to start tomorrow.

Half a dozen bills may be brushed into discard in the drive to have congress quit Saturday. Congressional leaders have said privately only a reversal of adjournment plans can save the oleomargarine tax repealer, pay raises for federal employes, the anti-Communist bill, Tidelands measure, an anti-lynch bill and an anti-poll tax proposal.

Aim of Leaders

While there is no certainty that the 80th congress will close up shop for keeps at the end of the week, that is the target being aimed at by Speaker Martin (R-Mass) and Senator Taft (R-Ohio), each boss of his branch of congress.

In addition to the usual departmental money bills which always clog up the closing days calendar, there are on the "must" docket bills to:

1 Draft men 19 through 25 into the armed services.

This has passed the senate and seemed likely to clear the house rules committee today.

2 Set up a housing program. The senate has passed the Taft-Ellender-Wagner bill, with a public housing section in the house leadership doesn't like. The house banking committee, upsetting its GOP leadership, has approved the senate plan but still needs rules committee clearance before it can take the bill to the house floor.

This clearance is virtually certain, with Republican leaders ready to fight on the floor to knock out the public housing provision backed by Senator Taft (R-Ohio). They think they can do it.

3 Extend the reciprocal trade agreements act by which the United States has been making tariff-cutting contracts with foreign governments.

Wants 3-Year Extension

The administration wants a straightaway three-year extension. The house has set a vote for late this afternoon on a compromise one-year extension without

PRISONER IS TAKEN TO COUNTY JAIL CELL

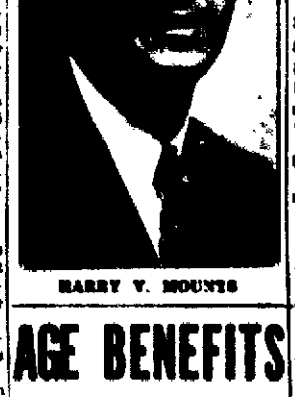
Held on Three Charges; Mrs. Beck Still Critical.

Dwight Kenneth Matthews, 34, of 233 Ballentine avenue, now being held under bonds totaling $20,000 on charges shooting of his ex-wife Mrs. Lenore Irvine, 37, her foster mother, Mrs. Alice A. Beck, 58, and Carl Bice of Marysville, has been moved from city prison to the Marion county jail to await grand jury action. He faces three separate charges of assault with intent to murder filed against him last Saturday in municipal court by James E. Reed, Marion county prosecutor.

Matthews pleaded not guilty to all three charges and waived preliminary hearing of his case.

City police and county officials continued to keep an hourly check round-the-clock on the condition of Mrs. Beck. She has remained critical since the shooting at her home Thursday night. Mrs. Beck suffered three pistol wounds in the abdomen. Mrs. Irvine also remains in City hospital where her condition is still reported as serious. Carl Bice, who was shot in the arm was released from the hospital after treatment.

Harry V. Mounts, County Auditor 13 Years, Dies



HARRY V. MOUNTS

Harry Victor Mounts, 58, of 1191 East Center street, Marion county auditor for 13 years, died at 9:55 a. m. Sunday at City hospital following a major operation.

First signs of his illness were noted eight weeks ago. X-ray examinations by physicians at that time revealed ulcers of the stomach. He was placed on a milk diet and continued to work at his office at the courthouse until Monday, June 7, his last full day at the office. The following day he came to the office and left directions for his staff.

At 3 a. m. last Wednesday his doctor was summoned and at 5 a. m. he was taken to City hospital. X-ray pictures disclosed an emergency operation was needed. At 3 p. m. the same day the operation was performed.

Relapse Friday

After the operation physicians were encouraged by an apparent improvement in Mr. Mounts condition which seemed to improve steadily until late last Friday. From then on his condition became steadily worse until his death Sunday morning.

Mr. Mounts was widely known in county political, fraternal and religious circles. He was a member of the Prospect Baptist church, Prospect Masonic lodge, and was past president of Buckeye Aerie No. 337, Fraternal Order of Eagles.

He started his career in politics when elected as township clerk and clerk of Prospect school board. He operated a barber shop in Prospect at the time.

He served a brief period as clerk of the board of county commissioners and in 1938 was appointed deputy by the then County Auditor Earl E. Thomas. He served as deputy auditor until elected to the office, starting his first term in 1935. At the time of his death he was serving the second year of his fourth four year term. He also was serving his third term as secretary of the Ohio State Association of County Auditors and was a former president of that organization. He was a member of the Marion County Republican club, and had been active in the county Republican organization for many years. He was a former president of the Northwestern Ohio Association of County Auditors.

Active in Sports

He had a keen interest in sports and in his youth played outfield with the Prospect team in the old "Heart of Ohio" league. In later years he had shown a keen interest in golf and with Marion E. Hinklin, he was co-operator of the Mar-O-Del golf course on the Delaware pike.

He was born Aug. 22, 1889, at Prospect, the son of Henry Newton Mounts and Elizabeth Grace Barnhart Mounts, both lifelong Prospect residents.

He attended Prospect public and high school. He married Miss Hazel Blanch Powell of Prospect Dec. 25, 1910. He is survived by his widow, two daughters, Mrs. Charles Seebach of Marion and Mrs. Charles Fly Jr. of Deshler and a granddaughter, Suzanne Seebach, age 21 months.

Two brothers, Marion A. Mounts of Prospect and Gilbert E. Mounts of Buckeye Lake also survive. A third brother Verne I. Mounts died in France in World War I. As the only Prospect soldier to lose his life overseas in that war, the Prospect post No. 388 of the American Legion was named for him.

Funeral Wednesday

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Wednesday from the Prospect Baptist church at Prospect. Rev. A. O. Long, pastor, will officiate, assisted by Rev. H. K. Freeman, pastor of First Baptist church of Delphos, former Prospect minister, and Rev. J. B. Holloway of Trinity Baptist church, Marion. Interment will be in Prospect cemetery. Friends may call at any time at the Merle H. Hughes Mortuary until 12 noon Wednesday. Friends at Prospect may call at the church between 1 p. m. and 2 p. m. Wednesday.

Pallbearers will be Carl H. Lehner, chairman of Marion county commissioners, Marion E. Hinklin, county treasurer, James E. Reed, county prosecutor, Walter W. Johnson, county engineer, LeRoy Retterer, sheriff, and Calvin Oborn, clerk of courts.

Stay Is Granted In Indian Lake Slaying

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., June 14—The state supreme court today granted an indefinite stay of execution to Roger Williams, convicted of the slaying of Minda Webb Rockwell, Kenton waitress, at Indian Lake.

The stay was granted automatically when Williams' attorneys filed an appeal from his death sentence. Williams was to have died July 8.

AGE BENEFITS BILL VETOED

Truman Calls It One of "Piecemeal Attacks" on Social Security.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 14—President Truman vetoed today a bill increasing needy aged benefits asserting it would bar 750,000 persons from old age insurance.

Mr. Truman said he was acting on the bill in "adequate time" for congress to change it. He assailed "these piecemeal attacks" on the social security program.

The vetoed bill carried an additional $184,000,000 annual federal contribution at the rate of $6 a month for needy aged persons and the blind, and $3 a month for dependent children. The states match these grants. Mr. Truman said increases "fall far short" of what he requested.

But another section of the bill blocks extension of old age insurance—financed by payroll taxes—a group composed largely of salesmen who work for commissions and over whom no employer exercises direct control.

The veto message assailed this section.

Simultaneously, on Capitol Hill the house passed another social security measure and sent it to the senate. It would make it possible for an additional 3,500,000 persons to participate in old age insurance.

The veto and the bill passed today cover two main divisions of the social security program—(1) direct grants for the aged the blind and the dependent children, and (2) insurance for old age retirement paid for by employers and workers through 1 per cent payroll taxes.

The vetoed bill would have allowed a federal-state payment of $50 monthly for each needy aged person and blind person, and $27 a month for a dependent child. Size of the payments are set by the states.

HOUSE VOTES TO ADD MORE AGE PENSIONS

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 14—The house passed by a thumping 287 to 2 vote today, and sent to the senate, a bill to open the way for 2,500,000 additional persons to participate in old age insurance.

The legislation was presented to the house under a late session procedure that required a two-thirds vote. However, it is not certain that the senate will act upon it if congress adjourns Saturday.

The bill is short of what President Truman proposed. He asked congress in a special message in May to bring 20,000,000 more persons into the social security program, for a total coverage of 50,000,000 persons.

Moreover, Mr. Truman asked that benefits be increased by at least 20 per cent and that the social security taxes be boosted also. This is not in the bill.

FEDERAL COURT INJUNCTION IS ISSUED TODAY

Halts Threatened Nationwide Walkout of More Than 100,000 Workers.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, June 14 — A U. S. district court judge today granted the government a temporary injunction restraining a threatened nationwide strike of more than 100,000 maritime workers.

The strike had been threatened by the seven unions involved for any time after tomorrow midnight. It would involve deck workers on the east, gulf and west coasts as well as the seamen who man most of the nation's merchant shipping.

The injunction, asked by the department of justice acting under orders from President Truman, was granted by Federal Judge John W. Clancy.

The injunction specifically named the National Maritime Union, the Maritime Engineers Beneficial Association, and the American Radio Association, all CIO affiliates, as well as unlicensed shipping personnel and 94 shipping companies.

Others Scheduled

Injunctions affecting the other unions involved were expected to be filed in other cities today.

Judge Clancy's order also restrains the ship operators from locking out union workers.

The petition, filed in U. S. district court, asked the court to order the unions and the ship operators to resume collective bargaining "in good faith."

Promises "Fight To Limit"

Before the petition was filed, Joseph Curran, president of the CIO National Maritime Union—largest of the seven—had said his union would not "defy" the law. He added that it "will fight to the limit" against the injunction in court.

The justice department charged the threatened tieup endangered industry and if permitted to occur would imperil the national health and safety.

Unless enjoined, the complaint continued, the impending walkout would cause the United States to "suffer irreparable injury for which it has no adequate remedy at law."

The suit was filed by Joseph M. Friedman, special assistant to Attorney General Tom Clark. The department acted under instructions from President Truman, who said last Saturday a maritime walkout would affect the nation's public health and safety.

Young Appeal Heard Today

Michel Asks Court To Reduce Degree of Crime to Manslaughter.

Paul D. Michel today asked the Third District court of appeals to reduce the degree of the crime of which Edwin D. Young was convicted here, from first degree murder to manslaughter.

Young's attorney declared the rules of law governing crime have to be held up by the high courts and that the evidence in the case did not support a first degree murder verdict, although it did fit the crime of manslaughter.

He insisted the act of strangling Mrs. Zora Gerbes with a clothesline last July was committed in the heat of blood and with adequate provocation, not with deliberate and premeditated malice, elements of first degree murder.

He declared the verdict of the jury was reached not upon weighing of the evidence presented in the case, but through opinion prejudiced by press and radio publicity. Michel made reference to Young's confession, printed in the Star the murder stories carried in a Columbus tabloid and a radio interview at the time of the accused's return to Marion to stand trial.

These he told the court made it impossible to secure a fair and impartial jury.

He further refers to testimony declared that testimony of the state's chief witnesses taken at the trial and placed in the record fails to prove the case. He referred specifically to testimony given by Attorney Russell Wilhelm, City Policeman Clyde Hinkle and Frank Ward, editor for the Columbus Sunday Star, all identifying as to statements made by Young to them in reference to the crime.

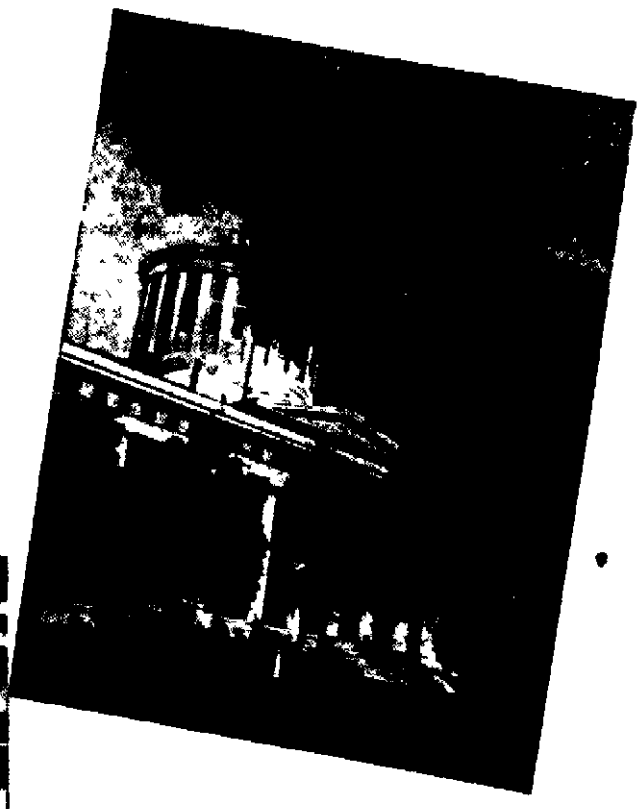
Exploring Ohio

WITH SOHIO X-70

You don't have to take long trips to have a lot of fun in this state of ours. "Just around the corner" is history, beauty, fun!



All over Ohio are beautiful parks in all their natural loveliness. This particular view is in one of the Hocking Parks. What's more fun for all the family than an all-day picnic in one of these cool, quiet spots? It costs so little, too . . . just a picnic lunch and a few gallons of long-mileage Sohio X-70.

How the children love to visit the Zoo! The one shown here is in Cincinnati, but there are other outstanding zoos in Ohio. It won't take much long mileage Sohio X-70 to get to one.

Scenic beauty abounds in Ohio. This scene is from a hilltop overlooking the Ohio River. No matter where you live, there's beautiful countryside right near by. Enjoy it! It costs so little with economical, long-mileage Sohio X-70.

Ohio's State Capitol, in Columbus, houses the legislative, judicial and executive branches of our State Government. It was completed in 1861. Thousands of Ohioans visit the State House every year—and the biggest percentage of them use Sohio X-70 to get there! For no other gasoline is so popular with Ohioans.

Free Outing Book! "Let's Plan an Outing" is a new guide to picnic and outing spots in Ohio. All State Parks, Roadside Picnic Parks, and major Metropolitan Park Systems are included. Maps and attractive illustrations. Contains detailed information on picnic tables, approved drinking water, sanitary facilities and other helpful hints about Ohio's picnic spots. Get your copy free at any Sohio station.

Miles and miles of smooth sandy beaches stretch along Ohio's northern boundary. Often called "Ohio's Riviera", the Lake Erie shore is a popular summer playground for Ohioans. You can drive along the Lake from one end of the state to the other . . . and you'll find Sohio X-70 handy all along the route!

Sketch of a Possible WHITE HOUSE HOSTESS

— Jean Faircloth MacArthur —

(One of a series of daily articles about wives of men in the list from which the Republican nominate a lucky to be chosen)

MRS. DOUGLAS MAC ARTHUR

WHAT a star Wanda Jean Marie Faircloth MacArthur became the First Lady of the land.

The spotlight which has shone so brightly on her astronaut husband General Douglas MacArthur has not given Americans a clear picture of his wife who probably does not know a dozen people in the nation's capital. The stunning general has made many headlines there's more and more than ever curiosity about Mrs MacArthur's freedom. To some New Yorkers that was Washington when Jeep Stilwell was there. Mrs MacArthur (Louise Cromwell Brooks MacArthur Heiberg) who is a playful wit Jean MacArthur "crazy about Army life and has spent all her married time in the Pacific with many ar-

invites aimed at raising the effectiveness of Army officers and men certain many of these would be seen at White House functions

As she has done in the Philippines in Japan and wherever she has gone with the general she is trying to keep life for their small 10-year-old son Arthur as normal as possible trying under conditions which have never been normal from the viewpoint of the American youngster. Actually nothing has been normal for Mrs MacArthur a wealthy globetrotter but since she married the general started on shipboard

Mrs MacArthur grew up in Tennessee and later attended fashionable Ward Belmont college Nashville and her father (her parents were divorced) topped off her education with trips to the Near East South America and Europe longer than usual stay of Mrs MacArthur's she saw a lot of the girl as they were at the Astor in New York were quietly Aug 1941 and the next day were off to Manila.

She had plenty of practice as an officer's wife as a member of the beautiful American embassy in Japan the enviable exacting White House hostess without too much effort. Yes she has her friends she would make a charming First Lady in Washington just as she has been a charming First Lady in the Far East.

Love's Perilous Path

By ADELE GARRISON

I gave Chris a quizzical glance, as she spoke of Georges best man at their forthcoming wedding and her cheeks crimsoned at the remembrance of the colloquy between Mary and herself on that subject

"I'm glad you remember what was said about that I told her 'for it is my firm conviction that Georges would be most uncomfortable if Noel were to act as his best man and closest friend upon the occasion of his marriage

"Did he say anything about it?" she faltered

"Not a word" I assured her with the reminder that here was another one for the opened book of the Day of Judgment "But, you know, that in the absence of Pietro, your brother his sworn comrade, whom he would choose as his best man above all others, it really doesn't much matter to Georges who stands beside him if he is presentable and can wear evening clothes But I am sure he would object to Noel, because my dear girl, he still is absurdly jealous of the fact that you once were engaged to Noel I am going to give you a bit of advice, and I think I shall bestow it on Noel as well"

"Yes?" she queried as I paused

"I want you and Noel to be very careful about any affectionate brother-and-sister actions and speech, such as you normally use as your mother's daughter and your stepfather's son

"Georges is exuberantly pleased with life in general I went on, "and I don't want anything to mar the picture'

"I'll be careful' she said, 'but' she crimsoned again, 'I can't very well warn Noel"

"You don't need to worry about that part of it" I said, smiling, but stressing my words 'I'll attend to Noel

"Then I won't worry" she said smiling back at me "Have you any ideas about the 'presentable man who can wear evening clothes,' and—I suppose be trusted not to lose the ring—who will stand next to Georges?"

"Yes, I have" I said, "but, of course, the ultimate choice will rest on Georges However, I do not think he will object He even may mention the man himself I think Mr K would fall the bill admirably

Mr K Her voice was sharp with surprise You mean the FBI detective?"

For an instant I wondered if she were sharing the haughty attitude of Georges toward the brilliant government operative

Yes, I mean my father's confidential aide I said, stressing the words but I could have spared my breath for I had mistaken her meaning She already was launched on an enthusiastic assent to my proposition

'Why, I think he would be marvelous she cried "He's so good-looking, and he's the same size as Georges—I believe they could wear the same clothes—and he has such an air about him He looks as if he spent his mornings breakfasting with presidents and kings and money tycoons But does Georges like him?"

"I don't think he did at first" I told her truthfully "But they appear to have developed a 'wonderful comradeship'"

I had gone over all the hurdles, I told myself From now on, I ought to have comparatively smooth sailing

'Now dearest I said "I have much more to tell you but nothing more that concerns Georges And as I shall want to tell them to your mother as well, I think I shall wait until I can see you together Alas, I don't want to delay my father any more than I can help Therefore if you have no more questions to ask may I telephone your stepfather to come after you?"

What's the Nimblest Number on the highway?

THAT'S a big question, taking in a lot of territory, and we'd be the last to deny you the right to your opinion.

But, sir — before you slip up behind this tidy SUPER with the idea of giving it the go-by, better figure what you're up against!

It's big, certainly — six-persons roomy and two-tons hefty as it takes to the road.

But take a look at the size of that bonnet — it isn't there just for show! It's filled to the brim with straight-eight power — and a very special kind of power at that.

For Buick's the only car on the road today that puts Fireball power under your treadle foot.

It's the only car in which pistons are specially shaped to roll each tiny fuel charge into a compact ball that lets loose with extra lift and surge.

And that means that this clean-lined fleetster is exactly what it looks like — a star performer.

A nudge on the gas treadle — and it's gone with the wind.

A swing of the wheel, and this low-swung carriage takes curves with the ease and sureness of straightaways.

As for rough spots, even they won't slow you down, so smoothly does this beauty take all kinds of going in its stride.

You can see, of course, how steady it is. How the body rides level and unperturbed while four soft coil springs soak up the jars and jolts.

As for handling, well once you've tried it, we know exactly what you'll do.

You'll see the nearest Buick dealer, with or without a car to trade, and get a firm order in right now.

Freeze-Out in a Cold War

RENEWAL of Russian interference with rail traffic from western Germany into Berlin was expected as a result of last week's moves to set up a provisional government for Germans under western control. It was obvious counter-attack in the cold war.

The Western Powers are at an obvious disadvantage in this kind of a freeze-out. They can be pestered endlessly by Russian moves calculated to annoy them in the Berlin area and to make the position of their officials there untenable.

They can be robbed of prestige in the eyes of Germans in both the Russian and western zones. Their costs of military occupation can be made exorbitant. This can be done moreover, in a way that will make it difficult for them to force a showdown. It will be a repetition of the freeze-out carried on by the Japanese in China during the 1930's when the Western Powers were backed down step by step at the expense of their prestige.

The issue is whether the Russians will be able to get away with it by steps just a little short of war without precipitating an incident that would make war unavoidable. What has seemed up to now to be a remote possibility can become an immediate probability if the Kremlin decides to make it that way.

Everybody's Welfare but the Public's

SQUABBLING between the United Mine Workers and the coal operators over the miners' welfare fund caused the coal strike of April and May 1946, and may cause another strike in 1948.

It's obvious that John L. Lewis intends to control the fund to suit himself, equally obvious that the operators' representative, Ezra Van Horn, intends to keep him from doing this—and just as equally obvious that the third man on the welfare board is caught between the upper and nether millstones. The third man currently is Senator Bridges of New Hampshire.

Theoretically, Senator Bridges speaks for the third party in all conflict between Mr. Lewis and the mine operators—the people of the United States whose welfare is tied up with coal production.

The people put the money into the fund, as they do in the case of all similar schemes to charge what the traffic will bear, plus a little more for good measure. They pay a 10-cent-a-ton royalty on coal to keep Mr. Lewis happy. It's their money being argued about—not money that was deducted from wages or from profits.

Welfare funds are being eyed by other unions as the next great unexploited area of collective bargaining. If all they're going to be is one more source of bickering during which everybody's welfare but the public's is argued about, no one can blame the public for suspecting they are just one more way to get something for nothing at the people's expense.

Shortcake Shortage

THE strawberry shortcake season is at hand, a good time of year when the first part of the meal should be light to allow for the luscious dessert.

When served with the lavish hand characteristic of the farm kitchen strawberry shortcake is a noble delicacy a meal in itself. Even strawberries and heavy cream alone constitute a memorable occasion. Reference will not be made here to those who desecrate strawberries with brandy, kirsch or other malodorous liqueurs.

Unfortunately the restaurant diner has no chance to enjoy strawberries to the fullest. The price of a helping of shortcake ranges from 25 cents to $1.25, depending on the magnificence of the restaurant, but portions are skimpy even when a fancy waiter serves them with a pure linen doily on the saucer.

A helping of shortcake the other evening brought a total of 15 berries and an apology from the proprietor that even at the price he was losing money. Cold comfort to a strawberry gourmand known as the terror of the patch in his berry picking days.

No Volume Control

THE supreme court has ruled that the loudspeaker is an instrument of free speech. The decision was based on an action by Jehovah's Witnesses of Lockport, N. Y. who continued to use a loudspeaker in a public park after the permit had expired. It is in political campaigns that loudspeakers are generally used.

Speaking for the majority of five, Justice Douglas feared that the right of free speech might be abused by local authority. Justice Jackson, for the minority of four observed that 'free speech is fine as long as it falls on willing ears, but there is a point at which free speech becomes disturbing to the peace.'

The ruling means that a political candidate is free to use a loudspeaker to present his cause. In so doing, he should remember that injudicious noise can alienate votes as well as win them.

Scanning the Record

By George E. Sokolsky

The Cracker Barrel Argument.

I HEARD a lot of talk on my recent trip to Butte, Montana and back about the presidential election. As a matter of fact, the farther one gets from New York the more intense becomes the election conversation. New Yorkers are too often diverted by minor issues, forgetting that a presidential election is the most potent expression of citizenship.

There are fewer such diversions in other parts of the country, there is less interest in the Palestine war, less excitement over ECA and similar institutions, less fury about what Wallace wrote to Stalin and why, more concern as to who is going to run against whom.

SOKOLSKY

Republicans are deeply concerned over the prospects of a long fight in their convention between the supporters of Taft and Dewey, a fight that might deadlock and produce a compromise. The preference seems to be for a short convention, particularly as it is likely to be hot and the hotel rooms in Philadelphia are so few as to require doubling up. Generally it is suggested however that should such a compromise be chosen, it will be Senator Vandenberg.

Somehow the impression has got about that Senator Vandenberg would be a one-term president, and that is unsatisfactory because the way our government is organized the President who does not seek or has no prospects of renomination is without power and authority even in his own party. He becomes a political eunuch on his inauguration day. Therefore some of those who might be for Senator Vandenberg for the compromise fear its consequences should the senator announce that he would be a one-term president. That idea has caused considerable concern particularly as his vice president may have to be someone whom no one wants as president.

No Second Place for Them

The general sentiment continues to be for Taft or Dewey and there is much talk of vice presidents. For that office Governor Warren of California seems to be a great favorite. It is absurd to speak of either Taft or Dewey as vice president, for neither would accept such a position. Taft as Republican leader of the senate, is happier than he could be as a gavel waver. Dewey as governor of the state of New York, is doing a useful and satisfactory job and he would not want to achieve political advancement by the expectancy of disability or death. There is some talk of Senator Saltonstall of Massachusetts but his candidacy for the vice presidency would depend wholly on the geographical bearings of the presidential candidate. Stassen is regarded as a possibility only if Vandenberg is the compromise, as neither Taft nor Dewey would have him. This would be equally true should Joe Martin be the compromise.

Can't Fool Very Many

There is considerable amusement about President Truman's non-political tour of the West and Northwest. Nobody has any illusions about it at all. His visits are being arranged in a most political manner and it is expected that all his speeches prepared or on the hop, will generally be of a political nature, an expectation which is already being realized at the taxpayers' expense. It could not be otherwise in a campaign year. I heard no talk on this trip of any other Democratic candidate. The whispers concerning General Eisenhower and Supreme Court Justice Douglas seem local to the eastern seaboard. It seems to be assumed generally in the country that Harry Truman will be the Democratic candidate and that the Republicans will beat him.

Wallace Waning

Wallace's third party seems to be petering out. There is little talk of it and when Wallace's name is mentioned, it is often met with a leer. To most Americans one meets, Wallace seems to be queer, they do not seem to understand what he means. Often, I was asked, is he a Communist? Often I was asked, what is a Guru? And when I explained the less focussed tighter Henry Wallace's influence is on the wane everywhere because he has made himself alien to the current manner and thought of his own people. He has pushed himself into the position of an outsider. Even should he get a large vote in New York and California, his leadership in the country is gone. Everybody wants peace, but not a coward's peace.

Vandenberg's Plea for ECA

By Walter Lippmann

"UNTIL then I beg of you," said Senator Vandenberg, "that you give ECA a fair chance." Until when? Until "next January when we shall know whereof we speak. When the second annual appropriation impends, we shall know what kind of job Administrator Hoffman and his staff are doing. We shall know to what extent self help and mutual cooperation are meeting our expectation."

LIPPMANN

Though these words were part of Senator Vandenberg's appeal to Congress to honor a solemn commitment they carry with them an urgent warning to the leading governments of Europe and also to the President and the state department.

It is a warning that the continuation of ECA is not assured by the original authorization nor will it be if the Martin-Taber raid is repulsed. It is notice that "a general overhaul" as Senator Vandenberg put it—that is to say a general reconsideration of the basic policy—will be undertaken by the next administration and the next congress.

It will be undertaken not merely by the enemies of ECA but by its strongest supporters—who will then 'know in what extent self-help and mutual cooperation are meeting our expectations.'

No doubt six months for that is what it comes to—will seem like an exceedingly short time in which to prove that ECA should be continued.

But if the European governments and particularly the British and French make a serious effort to understand the real attitude of this country they will know what kind of action on their part will in fact meet American "expectations."

Key To Mystery

They will find I believe that the key to the mystery is that while the European Recovery Program has been "justified" by a torrent of statistics in fact this extraordinary enterprise unique in the history of the world, will have to be justified by intangible economic, political and moral results.

The American people hope, of course that production will rise, that trade will increase that inflation will be mastered and that the balance of payments will be righted. But what they are really looking for are signs which they can take seriously that a new Europe is in the making.

It is because signs of that kind are lacking that even the first appropriation for ECA is in danger. For the Martin-Taber attack reflected not so much the strength of the opposition to the recovery program as it did the lack of strong conviction on the part of its supporters.

They were absent from the house in large numbers and those who were present did not fight very effectively. Why? Because so it seems to me the governments in Europe and the state department here have deflated the hopes of the people.

Dissolution

In the past few months they have seen Western Union degenerate into little more than an impotent military alliance. They have seen the United Nations maltreated. They have seen the British Labor government cold-shoulder the movement for European union. They have seen their own government invite the Russians to talk and then unable to think of anything to say.

As a result if they have not become isolationists, they are certainly disillusioned at the prospect of huge subsidies, huge armaments and the draft, all at the expense of housing, health education and internal development with no progress toward a new and better international order.

The failure of the European governments and of the State Department to promote the political unity of Europe and to uphold the authority of the United Nations has sapped the only foundation on which sustained American support of the recovery program could rest.

No one but required high statesmanship to put the program on a constructive foundation. It was much easier to put it across as a measure of the cold war to depend on the fear of communism rather than on faith in a new democratic order.

But fear will not sustain a continuing effort. It will work for a few emergencies but not for four years. It is good for a sprint but not for a long run.

The Russians once they are brought enough to realize that we are depending on their provocations to generate the steam to carry on have only to stop being quite so irritating in order to reduce the pressure. Then no longer frightened, but without a sustaining faith in place of their fears, the people's interest lags, shies. It is languishing now. That is where Marshall and Taber saw their opportunity.

Just a Minute

By Jack Tarver

Did He Go Home To His Papa?

A St. Louis man has been granted a divorce from a wife who criticized his cooking.

It serves her right, the brutess.

No man wants to spend his declining years slaving over a hot stove and then have an unappreciative wife make unkind remarks, besides, it's a scuffle.

She married him for better or for worse, and that included his biscuits.

The best years of his life he gave her. Hours he spent swapping recipes with the boys. And for what? So she can come home in a bad humor, take one bite of the rich barbecue and shove it away with a snarling:

"That doesn't taste like the kind that Father used to make!"

Where the motive to do right exists, and the majority of one's acts are right, we should avoid referring to past mistakes.—Mary Baker Eddy.

Under a New Flag

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Tuesday, June 14, 1938.

The house approved the compromise wage-hour bill and only favorable senate action was needed to send the measure to the White House.

Flag-bedecked streets in the business section, banners flying from homes in the residential district, and programs by patriotic groups and organizations marked the observance of Flag Day.

Dr. M. F. Douce of 132 North Vine street retired after more than 50 years as a practicing veterinarian in Marion and nearby counties.

A movement to secure a new city hall in Marion was launched at a meeting of citizens organized as the Committee on Civic Improvement. Leaders estimated that the city building, which would be located on the city lot at Church and Prospect streets, would cost $295,000.

Mrs. Jane Hopkins Rexroth, 80 of East Center street, a member of one of Marion's oldest families and one of the city's most active women in church work, died in the City hospital.

D. J. MacDonald, commander, J. W. Llewellyn and M. E. Baldwin were named degates from Bird-McGinnis, Post No. 162 American Legion, to the annual state convention at Cincinnati, at a meeting of the post.

Mrs. C. S. Waters was installed as regent at a tea held by Captain William Hendricks Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution, at Hotel Harding, in observance of Flag Day.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Thursday, June 14, 1928.

Miss Mildred Crow left for Leland-Stanford university to enroll in law school.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Bolinger celebrated their twentieth wedding anniversary with a 6 o'clock dinner at their home in Pleasant Acres.

How Veterans' Bonuses Fare

9 States Paying Them, 8 To Vote on Them.

NINE states have authorized World War II veterans' bonuses of more than $1,600,000,000 and eight others will conduct referendums for payment of an additional $1,200,000,000 according to the Tax Foundation.

Of the nine states authorizing bonuses, four in New England provided for them by legislative enactment, the others by referendums. The remaining 31 states have no plans for bonuses.

"In some areas," the Tax Foundation reports, "the prospective beneficiaries of such legislation are opposed to granting cash payments to all, without regard to need. This is said to be the sentiment of organized veterans in California."

Here is how payments are being made in the nine states authorizing bonuses:

Ohio: $10 per month for domestic service, $15 for foreign, maximum $400.

Vermont: $10 per month, with maximum of $120.

Rhode Island: Flat payment of $200.

Connecticut: $10 per month, maximum $300.

Illinois: Same as Ohio except that there is no maximum; next of kin of men dying of service-connected causes receive $900.

Massachusetts: $100 for domestic service of less than six months, $200 for domestic service of more than six months, $300 for foreign service.

Michigan: Rates same as Ohio's with maximum of $500.

New Hampshire: $10 a month with $100 maximum.

New York: $50 for 60 days or less domestic service, $150 for more than 60 days, $250 for overseas service.

States with bonus referendums pending are Indiana, Iowa, Minnesota, Missouri, North Dakota, Pennsylvania, South Dakota and Wisconsin.

The foundation reports that of the 20 states granting World War I bonuses five still have outstanding bonds worth $38,000,000, the last of which won't mature until 1955. World War I veterans were paid state bonuses of $398,000,000 but interest charges raised the total cost to $590,000,000.

Agitation for state bonuses can be expected to increase in the future according to the foundation. It adds:

If the World War I pattern is any indication, pressure will be directed toward congress for similar action after the wave of state bonus adoptions has run its course.

"Voters, being requested to approve or reject bonus proposals during the next several months and future legislatures would do well to look beyond the emotional factors involved and give serious and studied consideration to immediate and future economic effects of such action. Approval of such measures is resulting in further swelling our money supply at the very level where it will produce the greatest inflationary effect.

'Another sobering thought is the fact that interest and capital must be paid out of taxation over periods as long as 25 years.'

Magnetic Sweepers

Magnetic highway sweepers are saving motorists from flat tires in many states this summer according to the American Public Works Association.

The Association reports that among state currently using electromagnets on wheels to clear "tramp iron" from highways are Missouri, Kansas, Minnesota, Mississippi, Nebraska, Oklahoma, North Dakota and Arkansas.

"All states surveyed which operate these units at present enthusiastically advocate their use," the association states. 'An average of 8.2 pounds of metal per mile per year is collected of which up to 75 per cent is tire-damaging material.'

The Minnesota highway department reported that each pound of scrap gathered by its mobile magnet contains approximately 100 pieces of puncturing-type metal. The Minnesota electric road sweeper consist of a magnet unit 8 feet long powered by a 2.5 kilowatt electric plant mounted on a 1.5 ton truck.

German Garden Plan

By The Associated Press

MUNICH—The military government has suggested that Americans and Germans team together to grow vegetable and fruit gardens, sharing the yield fifty-fifty. Governor Murray D. Van Wagoner said the idea would be to utilize land now occupied by Americans. They would provide the seed and fertilizer obtainable at the PX. Germans would provide the labor.

His legal staff said there was nothing in Directives to forbid this despite the MG policy against living off the land of an occupied country. The legal branch emphasized though that Americans are forbidden from "selling" any output of such a garden. The plan contemplates the use of requisitioned land only.

Father and Son Dialogues: The Drive on Pinball

"Pop, are you in there a drive on pinball machines?

"The police say they are an evil influence on the young boys.

"What would you know? Don't they have them in stores around here?

"Yes, but all you do is run up a score and the best you can get is a free play. Is that all?

"No, sir, I know that pinball racket. Pennies, places, free cash prizes.

"I once saw was one place where if you got an impossible score the storekeeper would give you some bubble gum.

"Do you mean to say you never heard of anybody getting paid off in cash?

"Oh, sure, I heard about it, popper. Is it bad to gamble?

"I'm sure glad that you ask a question like that, Junior. I imagine every child knows gambling is a sin and to be discouraged.

"Didn't I hear you phoning a man about a horse and—

"Now, never mind about that. I'm a grown man.

"But I never wasn't mommer sitting up nights trying to win something on a Walking Man program, a box top saving contest and some such thing where you can get a lot of money for just remembering songs like 'America, I Love You' and 'Old Black Joe.'

"'But, poppa, I want to know what is evil and what isn't evil, and—'

Fishing

By TRUMAN TWILL

Getting back to T. Manville, the tomcat again, his latest essay written exclusively for this column is about fishing.

'I went fishing last night,' he says in a manuscript that was tucked into the top of the breakfast cereal box and do not want to be disturbed. Please leave my 85 cents in the usual place.

"I had bad luck. Everything was on the side of the fish. They knew what they were going to do and I didn't. They knew what I was trying to do too. It wasn't a fair contest.

"Nevertheless, I sat on my tail half the night and fished. What made it silly was that I didn't care whether I caught any or not as far as eating them was concerned. I don't like fish.

"But I like to catch them when circumstances are favorable. It makes me feel that I am smarter than they are. Perhaps you have noticed that is the case with all fishermen.

They are frustrated fellows who like to get away somewhere in a quiet spot and pretend to be philosophers, meaning mostly that they like to brood over the whichness of whatness, arriving at no conclusions.

Meanwhile they fish and every time they catch something they get a thrill out of it. It takes the place of the triumphs they never have a chance to experience in their daily lives. At least they can outwit a fish.

'That is why cats fish and it is the same with people.

Some of the biggest thrills I ever had were catching fish in fishbowls where the odds were in my favor. I could see the fish and figure out what they were going to do next. It may not be sporting to do it that way but afterdast night I don't have much to say about being sporting. All I got for my trouble was a pain in my hip, probably my arthritis coming back—and a night in the open. Of course I'll try it again. I know there are fish in that pool because I've seen them in there.

"I realize it was out of season but that's one place where a cat has it all over people. Nothing is ever out of season for cats. We are never out of season either so it is turn about and fair play.

"I hope none of your friends will take offense at what I've said about fishermen, because it is true. After all, you like to go fishing yourself and if what I've said about fishermen in general doesn't apply to you I'll eat a bullhead, bones and all. You—we—are just a lot of half-baked philosophers who figure it's better to catch a fish once in a while than never to catch anything at all. Incidentally, why don't you try the pool I tried last night? You know the one I mean."

FIND COLUMBUS CARTOONIST DEAD

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, June 14—Harry J. Keys, 55, veteran cartoonist for the Columbus, O. Dispatch, was found dead in a Hotel Lexington room yesterday.

Police listed the case as an apparent suicide, but said they were unable to determine the cause of death immediately.

His wife, Ruth, 52, was in a critical condition today from what authorities described as "possible barbiturate poisoning." She was found unconscious on a bed in their room. Key's body, clad only in a bath robe, was between the beds.

The Keys had left Columbus Saturday for a short New York vacation.

Keys began his newspaper career with the now defunct Akron Times early in the 1900's. He transferred to the old Youngstown Telegram a short time later and subsequently joined Scripps-Howard News Service with the Oklahoma News. He came to Columbus in 1911 as a cartoonist for the Citizen and has been with the Dispatch about 18 years.

Detective James Flynn said he found a bottle containing sleeping tablets in the Keys' room. He said he also discovered another bottle containing an amber fluid he was having analyzed.

Hotel officials said the couple registered a few hours before Mrs Keys asked the desk for assistance. A hotel employe sent to the room found Keys dead and Mrs. Keys unconscious.

The WORLD on His Shoulders

The person confronted with the necessity for calling a funeral director feels that the burdens of the world are on his shoulders. But if, in his hour of need, he selects an experienced and competent member of our profession he will find that most of those burdens will be swiftly, deftly, and expertly removed.

We of the Schaffner-Denzer organization know how to serve most helpfully; we have learned, even, to anticipate the needs and wishes of those who turn to us in time of need. It is this ability to relieve the family of their natural burdens which has won for us the expressions of deep appreciation which have come to us from so many whom we have been privileged to serve.

YOUNG

Read in rebuttal declared that every effort was made both by the prosecution and the court to assure Young a fair and impartial trial. The court leaned over backward to protect Young's constitutional rights, he told the appeals judges refuting Michel's charges. He referred to denial by the court of his motion for adjournment of the trial to bring a sheriff from Colorado here to testify against Young's testimony that his confession had been made as a result of a proposition. Young's confession later ruled out of evidence because the prosecution had no witness to refute the maneuver over by the defense. Few hear arguments.

Few Hear Arguments

He charged also that in making every attempt to protect the rights of the accused, the court refused Reed permission to introduce medical testimony concerning Mrs. Gerber limiting medical testimony to statements as to cause of her death.

The attorneys concluded their arguments just before noon, the court adjourning until 1 p. m. when the third and last case to come before it was to be heard. Judges opened hearing on three cases, the first being heard at 10 a.m., prior to hearings of the Young appeal. There were but a handful of persons in the court room to hear argument before the appeals court.

UPHOLDS CONVICTION OF ALLEGED "RED"

By The United Press

WASHINGTON, June 14—The U. S. court of appeals today upheld by a 2 to 1 vote the contempt of congress conviction of Gerhart Eisler, alleged Communist secret agent in the United States.

Eisler was cited for contempt last year when he refused to be sworn in for testimony before the house unAmerican activities committee. At the time Eisler insisted on reading a statement before taking the witness stand.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover has called the German-born Eisler the number one international Communist agent in the United States.

Justice Bennett Champ Clark, writing the majority opinion, said: "Our review of the record in this case has failed to disclose compelling reasons for reversing the judgment of the district court."

GOTTWALD IN OFFICE VACATED BY BENES

By The Associated Press

PRAGUE, June 14 — Czechoslovakia's first Communist president was elected and took office today.

Premier Klement Gottwald was elected by a show of 296 hands in a public parliamentary election held in sixteenth century Vladislavsky hall, and was hailed by Speaker Oldrich John as "a Socialist president in a Socialist country."

Apart from Gottwald and a woman deputy who resigned three days ago, only two votes were not accounted for among the 300 members of parliament, who included 214 Communist party members.

The new president swore allegiance to the people's democracy constitution, went into the Hradcany courtyard to review troops and police, and then crossed back into the courtyard where Catholic Archbishop Josef Beran greeted him and Mrs. Gottwald at the door of St Vitus cathedral.

Norwood police chief Charles Fritz said an autopsy showed that the body of Willis Watts, 42, who died Nov 27 1944 had 'plenty of arsenic' in it The body was exhumed last Tuesday at Winchester Ky after police officials became suspicious when Coroner Herbert P Lyle said the school girl's death was due to chronic mercury and acute barbiturate poisoning

Mrs Watts told police they had had some paris green on the property to kill pigeons prior to her husband's death, but said she did not know how he could have taken any of it

She told the Norwood police chief she was willing to undergo a lie detector test but her attorney advised against it

"I am innocent," she said "I didn't kill Barbara Ann

She said her blonde daughter who weighed only 68 pounds a the time of her death, had secured mercury from the school chemistry laboratory when it spilled School officials said the mercury was kept locked up

Watts had been an invalid for more than two years prior to his death He suffered a fractur'd spine, ribs and pelvic bone in an auto accident in 1942.

Police said he left an estate of a farm, his brick home and $5,000 worth of insurance The farm was placed in trust for the daughter

Ohioans No Match for Invaders In 62nd Championship Trapshoot

VANDALIA O June 14—More than 500 Ohioans all armed with shotguns were no match for a few invaders from Michigan as I Wolfe remain in the state's 62nd championship trapshoot which wound up here yesterday

When the five-day feature was over about the only thing the Buckeye boys had to brag about was that they had tossed the biggest state trapshoot in the nation's history More than 600 shooters competed, an entry surpassed only by the roaring grand American

The titles were reserved for the Ohioans since this was an Ohio affair but in practically every event some foreign hot shot finished out front to take down a major share of the side-upon prize fund The state association dumped $6 700 added money into the pot and the invaders got more than their share

Walter Yates of Springfield a 43-year-old paint salesman and a novice at this game of knocking down flying discs, grabbed the big prize in yesterday's windup the 100-target handicap, with a score of 97 from 18 yards

However Ned Lilly of Stanton Mich who has won practically everything at the Grand American in former years was the class of the field with a dazzling 99 from 24 yards Yates got the title but Lilly got most of the cash

The day before as Joe Hiestand of Hillsboro and 17 year old Joe Devers of Dayton tied for the doubles title with 92 of 100 Lilly proved his prowess at the twin-target game by breaking 99

Not only that but Vic Reinders the U of Wisconsin professor from Waukesha and Detroit's Karl Maust tied at 98 while R B Crabill of Sturgis Mich had 93 That put four foreign shooters ahead of the two Ohioans who shot it out for the crown Hiestand winning

Roy Davidson of Middletown won the 200-target 16 yard singles title with 199 of 200 but Reinders broke the entire 200 to dim Davidson's chance to win the medal And when Bob Haerr of Enon and M F Hynes of West Alexandria tied at 97 of 100 in the preliminary handicap they were forced to shoot the top spot with another Joe Robertson Conrad of Sturgis Mich

Galion Jaycees Building Model Car Race Track

Special to The Star

GALION, June 14—Within the near future, possibly in two or three weeks, Galion will have a model car race track ready for operation.

It is being constructed by the Galion Junior Chamber of Commerce at the Amann reservoir, south of the city

The track will be the only one in this section of the state, others being located in Columbus Cleveland and Akron

A model car is 12 to 13 inches long weighs about five pounds and is capable of a speed of 100 to 125 miles per hour It will probably be three weeks before any races are run on the track

Forms for the track are here and concrete will be poured within a few days, a committee member of the Jaycees reported today

It will take a little longer to construct the spectators fence but this will probably be completed by two or three weeks

Many members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce have been contributing their services to help with construction of the track Financing of the project is being conducted through donations

Headed by Woodrow Bevsinger as chairman the committee of Jaycees in charge of the project is composed of Wayne Nelson Phillip Hartman and Albert Fisher

National League Staging Tight Flag Race

Only 1½ Games Separate Fourth Place Cards and Leading Giants, Braves

By The Associated Press

The National league voted for its close pennant races at the gate this year that promises to make all others look like runaways by comparison

With the season nearly one third gone the gap between the co-leading New York Giants and Boston Braves and the fourth place St Louis Cardinals is only one and one-half games Pittsburgh is in third place a game behind the leader

The tight situation does not end there The fifth place Phillies are only two and a half games off the pace Only eight and a half games separate the last place Chicago Cubs from the leaders

For comparative purposes the fourth place Detroit Tigers in the American league are eight games in back of the pace setting Cleveland Indians

Braves Bounce Back

The Braves who dropped out of the lead Saturday night suffered a double loss but bounced back to cop a first place tie with the Giants yesterday by dumping the Reds twice in Cincinnati 8-7 and 6-3 The Reds blew a six run lead in the first game Eddie Stanky Jr in Bobby Sturgeon with a pinch running run to climax a four run ninth inning rally

In the second game Bob Elliott's fifth inning home run with two mates aboard gave the Braves a commanding lead Hank Sauer of the Reds hit his 18th and 19th home runs and tripled in the second game

The Giants and Cardinals split a couple of close decisions The Giants won the first game 8-7 and the Cards took the second 3-2 snapping a five game losing streak

The Cards clinched a ninth inning Giant uprising to eke out a second game win Harry Brecheen who was charged with the first game defeat retired the last two men in the ninth of the nightcap with the tying and winning runs on the bases

Ralph Kiner hammered out his 16th and 17 home runs of the season to lead the Pirates to a 9-2 second game victory over Philadelphia after the Phils had copped the opener 8-7

Johnny Schmitz registered his sixth victory of the season and his third over Brooklyn when he hurled the Cubs to a 3-1 victory over the Dodgers in Chicago Gil Hodges spoiled Schmitz's shutout bid with a ninth inning homer

The New York Yankees managed to split a four game series with the Cleveland Indians defeating Bob Feller and the Tribe 5-3

The Philadelphia Athletics split a double header with the St Louis Browns to creep a game and one-half games off the American League pace-leading Indians They won the second game 3-1 after dropping the opener 7-5

The Tigers went above the 500 mark for the first time in a week when they defeated the Senators in both ends of a double header in Washington 9-8 and 8-2

Rain forced the postponement of the scheduled double header Boston between Chicago White Sox and the Red Sox

FELLER FAILS AGAIN AGAINST YANKEES

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, June 14 — The month of June has not been merry for Bob Feller, the Cleveland Indians' former jinx-jumping-jumper who has been a stumbling block to Yankee victory streaks in recent weeks.

For the second time within a week, the eagle-leaping Indians suffered a snapped victory string yesterday as Feller failed to get the distance in a 5-3 win for the third-place New York Yankees.

Feller, who started a record-making 16-game winning streak before suffering his first setback since he returned his services May 19 and his sixth loss compared with five triumphs, The Yankee hurling gate-buster, the poorest record on the Cleveland mound staff.

The New Yorkers were held at bay with three singles in the first five innings, but Joe DiMaggio rapped a 415-foot triple and Yog Berra slammed his ninth homer for a pair of runs off Feller in the sixth and a 2-1 lead.

A costly error by Joe Gordon permitted the Yankees to move ahead 4-1 in the eighth against relief hurler Gene Bearden. DiMaggio hit his second triple to open the frame but Bearden retired the next two batters before Gordon's wild throw tallied DiMaggio. Phil Rizzuto's home run then iced the decision.

The Indians, who compounded a sparkling eastern tour with eight wins in 11 starts, including three-for-four at Yankee stadium, staged a stirring rally in the ninth. Jim Hegan, veteran homer of New York's margin to 5-3 and the Tribe had the tying run on base when Joe Page rescued starter Ed Lopat and retired the side.

Smitty's All Stars went under to Italy's Ice Cream, 8-3, in a second game. Groenger hit three for four for the winners.

Smitty's All Stars will travel to Mansfield tonight to battle the Gorman-Rupp industrial NCO league game. A win will put the Marions on top in the loop.

Last week Gorman and Willard battled to a tie, the game being called after 16 innings with the score at 1-1.

The Maids will meet the Danville Merchantettes at Crystal Lake park Thursday at 6:30 p. m.

Symptoms That Need Attention

Many more people have gall-bladder trouble than ever suspect it. It is estimated that among those over 40, at least one person in ten has some type of gall-bladder disease. The classic symptoms—pain in the right upper part of the abdomen, a feeling of fullness after eating, sickness at the stomach—are all experienced from time to time, but nothing is done about them because the discomfort is passing. The sufferer believes he has had only a "touch of indigestion."

It goes without saying that such symptoms as these, particularly if they are repeated, demand a thorough examination. This may include X-rays of the gallbladder area. Gallstones will not always show in an X-ray plate, but most of them do. In any case, with newer methods of X-ray examination, it is possible to determine if the gallbladder is functioning or working as it should. After such careful study, it is possible for the physician to determine just what type of treatment will be most effective.

In some instances, even though stones are present, operation may not be necessary. In many cases, whether there are stones or only continued inflammation, known as chronic colecystitis, treatment may include careful dieting, reduction of weight, and exercising. With mild symptoms attacks may be completely prevented by following the proper diet and eliminating certain food.

I have outlined some diets for gallbladder disease to aid you in following your physician's instructions. I shall be glad to send them to you if you will write, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

The exact type of diet to be used depends to a great extent on the symptoms present. In some cases it may be wise to cut down on the fats in the diet since these stimulate contractions of the gallbladder. On the other hand, such contractions may be desirable in order to speed up the flow of the bile and, in these instances the inclusion of fats in the diet may be helpful.

Above all, do not neglect what you believe may be a gallbladder disturbance. Consult your physician so that he may be able to determine just what disorder is present, and follow the advice which he gives you so that your difficulty may be eliminated.

MUNCIE LEADS O-H LEAGUE BY EYELASH

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., June 14—Muncie clung to the Ohio-Indiana baseball league lead by an eyelash today.

Muncie's double win over Marion yesterday by identical 6-3 scores and Springfield's split with Zanesville set up the tightest race.

Springfield, which previously had the loop, won the opening game 7-6 but Zanesville came back to blast out a 3-0 victory in ten innings in a night tray.

That left Muncie leading the league by a single percentage point ahead of Springfield. Muncie now has 39 wins against 16 losses and Springfield 37 victories to 15 defeats.

Springfield pitcher Ted Birkenland fell apart in the tenth inning of the second game with Zanesville after both teams went scoreless for nine frames. In the tenth, Zanesville got three runs in three walks, a bunt and first sacker John Pulcini's single.

Lima pushed Richmond further into the cellar by winning a double-bill 8-5 and 7-1.

In the other league games Portsmouth beat Newark twice 6-5 and 8-2.

TOLOSA, Spain — The six brothers Elosegui, leading merchants of Tolosa, believe that they have achieved some kind of longevity record. Their respective ages are 89, 83, 81, 78, and 72 giving them a total of 480 years or an average of 80 years. All six brothers apparently are in good health and all are active businessmen.

Although Britain produced only a third the food she consumed in 1939, she produced 70 per cent of her rations during World War II.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

Mr. Truman's position is becoming much clearer. Obviously he is for curbing unruly congressmen and rivers.

• • •

While he did not indict Republicans by name for the spring floods he has made it clear that no Democrats were involved.

• • •

Incidentally the campaign song "Date in '48" is coming off the presses . . . If anything goes wrong it will be reissued as "We're Surely Due in '52."

• • •

Democrats are torn between Always and "We're Just Rolling Along With The Breeze."

• • •

But all is not dark for this campaign year . . with our new planes that exceed the speed of sound some lucky fellows will be traveling too fast to hear the speeches.

• • •

Still a plane which can travel six miles in six seconds is not too remarkable considering the current speed of the current dollar.
